

The ER diagram represents the ideology of the database but not exactly how we built our database. In our database, we have 5 tables for 5 relations shown in the ER diagram, and we don't have the country and time entities because we felt with the information in those 5 tables will be sufficient enough.

Country is a list of all the countries in the database, and Time contains years. The relations are information related to each countries that changes throughout the years.

